

Contact: Nikki Keller,
VP of Community Impact Marketing
343.1267 x237 (office)
nkeller@uwlc.net

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
September 25, 2008

Wayne County Volunteers Mark Day of Caring

The United Way's Wayne County Division participated in this month's Day of Caring as more than 500 volunteers were mobilized throughout Wayne and Lackawanna Counties. Volunteers from companies including Wayne Bank, Loveshaw and Tobyhanna Army Depot completed projects ranging from light landscaping and spruce-up work at the Wayne County YMCA and Boy Scout Camp in Lake Ariel to helping deliver mums as part of the Victims' Intervention Program's annual fundraiser. According to Michele Minor Wolf, VIP executive director, this was the most successful fundraiser to date as 20 volunteers (including 10 United Way Day of Caring volunteers) sorted, counted and delivered the flowers to businesses and residents in Wayne County. Thanks to the United Way volunteers, the work was accomplished in half the time of previous years! Pictured from left to right are members of Loveshaw's United Way Day of Caring team: E.J. Robinson, Emily Podunajec, Rich Millon, Jake Manganello, and Mike Jones.